Inspector's Comments

The facility is connected to the Juvenile Courts building. This combination allows for the efficient process of admitting and removing a youth from secure custody. The facility is operated in a very detailed and controlled manner. The sanitation of the building is a high priority of the facility administration. The Facility Operations Administrator produced a very rigorous and detailed cleaning schedule that was comprehensive and complete. The staff members in the different areas were well aware of the day's schedule and the operation of the facility as a whole. The disciplinary process in place shows attention to the need for redirection and possible sanction requirements for the choices of the youth. The grievance policy and procedure for the youth is in place. The youth of the facility could talk about the grievance procedure at length. The school is administered by the Regional Office of Education System. Each youth is entered into the school system a day or two after arrival. This process allows for the youth to start a daily routine that includes educational participation. The youth of the facility were engaged in educational programming when the inspection proceeded. There are many programs in action at the school away from normal academics. The recreational schedule is vigorous with multiple locations within the facility to recreate. There was a facility garden for the youth to work in at the time of inspection. The living unit staff member move with the youth they are assigned which allows for a consistent mood being set and maintained. The facility staff members are very familiar with the youth of the facility. During the inspection the facility reported that a youth at the facility reported that they were transgendered. The inspector sat down and spoke with the youth to gain information as to how the facility was dealing with the youth. The transgender youth reported that the facility and the facility staff were dealing with the fact that a youth reported that they were transgender in a professional and supportive manner. The youth reported that he wished the facility could
